RADIX MARINE, INC.
(Formerly MODERN MFG Services, Inc.)
(A Development Stage Company)
NOTES TO UNAUDITED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Note 1 - Organization

Radix Marine, Inc. (the "Company"), formerly known as Modern MFG Services, Inc. is a corporation that was formed under the laws of the State of Colorado on September 30, 1958. On September 30, 2002 the Company acquired Integrated Maritime Platforms International, Inc. ("Integrated"). Integrated is currently developing for construction an Unmanned Surface Vehicle Prototype. It is the Company's intent to develop and market a complete line of manned and unmanned marine craft for the domestic and international market.

The Company is in the development stage as defined in FASB Statement 7. The Company has not paid any dividends and dividends, that may be paid in the future, will depend on the financial requirements of the Company and other relevant factors.

Note 2 - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Interim Financial Statements

The accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements are represented in accordance with the requirements for Form 10-QSB and article 10 of Regulation S-X and Regulation S-B. Accordingly, they do not include all the disclosures normally required by generally accepted accounting principles. Reference should be made to the Radix Marine, Inc. consolidated financial statements for the year ended June 30, 2003, contained in the Company's Form 10-KSB for additional disclosures including a summary of the Company's accounting policies, which have not significantly changed.

In the opinion of the Company's management, the accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements contain all adjustments (consisting of normal recurring accruals) necessary to present fairly the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2003, and the results of its operations and cash flows for the three-month and six-month periods ended December 31, 2002 and 2003. The operating results of the Company on a quarterly or semi-annual basis may not be indicative of operating results for the full year.

Basis of Presentation

The Company's consolidated financial statements are prepared using the accrual method of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States and have been prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplates the realization of assets and the settlement of liabilities in the normal course of business.

Principles of Consolidation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Radix Marine, Inc. and its wholly owned subsidiary, Integrated Maritime Platforms International, Inc. Intercompany transactions and balances have been eliminated in consolidation.

Revenue Recognition

The Company generates its revenue from a government contract on a cost plus fixed fee basis. The Company recognizes revenues at the time it invoices the government.

Allowance for Doubtful Accounts

The allowance for doubtful accounts on accounts receivable is charged to income in amounts sufficient to maintain the allowance for uncollectible accounts at a level management believes is adequate to cover any probable losses. Management determines the adequacy of the allowance based on historical write-off percentages and the current status of accounts receivable. Accounts receivable are charged off against the allowance when collectibility is determined to be permanently impaired. As of December 31, 2003, the Company did not establish any reserve for doubtful accounts.

Depreciation

The cost of property and equipment is depreciated over the estimated useful lives of the related assets. The Company's office equipment is being depreciated on the straight-line method for both financial reporting and income tax reporting purposes. Depreciation expense charged to operations for the three-months ended December 31, 2002, and 2003 were $21,428 and $253 respectively. Depreciation expense charged to operations for the six-months ended December 31, 2002, and 2003 were $21,633 and $505, respectively.

Long-Lived Assets

In August 2001, SFAS No. 144, "Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets," was issued establishing new rules and clarifying implementation issues with SFAS No. 121, "Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to be Disposed of," by allowing a probability-weighted cash flow estimation approach to measure the impairment loss of a long-lived asset. The statement also established new standards for accounting for discontinued operations. Transactions that qualify for reporting in discontinued operations include the disposal of a component of an entity's operations that comprises operations and cash flow that can be clearly distinguished, operationally and for financial reporting purposes, from the rest of the entity. The Company adopted this standard and in accordance with the statement the Company has reclassified the gain on extinguishment of debt from extraordinary items to continuing operations.

Net Loss Per Share

The Company adopted the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 128, "Earnings Per Share" ("EPS") that established standards for the computation, presentation and disclosure of earnings per share, replacing the presentation of Primary EPS with a presentation of Basic EPS.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers cash and cash equivalents to include all stable, highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accountings principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Income Taxes

The Company accounts for its income taxes under the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards 109 ("SFAS 109"). The method of accounting for income taxes under SFAS 109 is an asset and liability method. The asset and liability method requires the recognition of deferred tax liabilities and assets for the expected future tax consequences of temporary differences between tax bases and financial reporting bases of other assets and liabilities.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Pursuant to SFAS No. 107, "Disclosures About Fair Value of Financial Instruments", the Company is required to estimate the fair value of all financial instruments included on its balance sheet as of December 31, 2003. The Company considers the carrying value of such amounts in the financial statements to approximate their face value.

Issuances Involving Non-cash Consideration

All issuances of the Company's stock for non-cash consideration have been assigned a dollar amount equaling either the market value of the shares issued or the value of consideration received whichever is more readily determinable. The majority of the non-cash consideration received pertains to services rendered by consultants and others and have been valued at the market value of the shares issued.

Reclassification

Certain amounts have in December 31, 2002 have been reclassified to conform with the December 31, 2003 presentation. Such reclassification had no effect on net income as previously reported.

Pension Plan

The Company started a 401(k) plan effective January 1, 2003. All employees employed on the effective date are eligible. Employees hired after the effective date are required to have one year of service and be at least twenty-one years old. The plan has matching contributions, which are discretionary and determined annually by the plan sponsor. After six years of service the vesting percentage is 100%. For the three-months and six-months ended December 31, 2003, the Company's pension expense was $0.

Note 3 - Intangible Assets

As of December 31, 2003 the Company has intangibles assets totaling $1,803,324. Of that amount, $1,300,754 was allocated to goodwill and $502,570 was allocated to the purchase of a contract regarding the development and production of an Unmanned Surface Vehicle. The price of the contract is being amortized over the five-year term of the contract. Amortization expense for the three-months ended December 31, 2002 and 2003 were $25,129 and $25,129, respectively. Amortization expense for the six-months ended December 31, 2002 and 2003 were $25,129 and $50,257, respectively.

Estimated amortization expense for each of the next five years is as follows:

2004	$ 100,514
2005	100,514
2006	100,514
2007	75,386
2008	-
Total	$ 376,928

Goodwill is assigned to specific reporting units and is reviewed for possible impairment at least annually or more frequently upon the occurrence of an event or when circumstances indicate that the reporting carrying amount exceeds its fair value. During the year ended June 30, 2003, the Company determined the carrying amount of net assets acquired in the purchase of Integrated exceeded their fair values, which was estimated based upon the present value of expected future cash inflows. Accordingly, a goodwill impairment loss of $750,000 was recognized by that reporting unit during the year ended June 30, 2003. For the six-months ended December 31, 2003, no impairment loss was recognized by the Company.

Note 4 – Related Party Transactions

The Company has a loan of $50,000 from a third party. The loan is evidenced by a promissory note and matured on November 22, 2002, when $65,000 became fully due and payable. The loan is convertible into common shares of the Company at a rate of $.20 per share issued for a potential issuance of 312,500 shares. In connection with the loan, the Company is required to issue 37,500 shares of its common stock. The Company issued these shares in January 2003 valued at $3,750. The balance due as of December 31, 2003 was $62,500. The Company has not been able to make any payments on the loan and the loan is in default.

In the purchase of Integrated Maritime, the Company assumed an obligation evidenced by a promissory note that Integrated owed on the purchase of its contract to develop the Unmanned Surface Vehicle. Under the terms of the obligation, total payments cannot exceed $750,000 and the note matures on April 25, 2005. Upon the maturity of the note, any remaining amounts due under the note are forgiven. However, during the term of the Note, the Company is required to pay the holder 20% of all amounts raised and from the profit received under the contract.

The obligation and the related asset were valued at the estimated present value of the expected future payments over the term of the note of $520,512. In calculating the present value the Company used an interest rate of 8% per annum. In addition, the Company accrued interest on this obligation during the six-months ended December 31, 2003 totaling $50,353 and the Company paid $34,785 towards this obligation. The balance due at December 31, 2003 was $388,032.

In addition, the Company at December 31, 2003 owes other related parties a total of $285,241, which is unsecured, non-interest bearing and due on demand.

During the six-months ended December, 31, 2003 the Company issued 2,550,417 shares of its common stock in the exchange for the cancellation of $91,192 of indebtedness to related parties.

Note 5 – Payable to Others

In the reverse acquisition of MPEG on August 6, 2001, the Company assumed $259,148 of indebtedness due to a third party. This loan is unsecured, non-interest bearing, and is due on demand. As of December 31, 2003 the balance is $109,148.

Note 6 - Income Taxes

Income taxes are provided based on earnings reported for financial statement purposes pursuant to the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109 ("FASB 109"). FASB 109 uses the asset and liability method to account for income taxes. That requires recognizing deferred tax liabilities and assets for the expected future tax consequences of temporary differences between tax basis and financial reporting basis of assets and liabilities.

An allowance has been provided for by the Company which reduced the tax benefits accrued by the Company for its net operating losses to zero, as it cannot be determined when, or if, the tax benefits derived from these operating losses will materialize. As of December 31, 2003, the Company has unused operating loss carryforwards, which may provide future tax benefits in the amount of approximately $1,646,000 which expire in various years through 2023.

Note 7 - Issuances Involving Non-cash Consideration

During the six-months ended December 31, 2003 the Company issued 8,883,859 shares of its common stock in exchange for the cancellation of $262,192 of indebtedness. The 8,883,859 shares were valued at market on the date of issuance totalling $626,849. The difference between the value of the shares issued ($626,849) and the amount of the debt cancelled ($262,192) of $364,657 has been charged to operations.

Note 8 - Subsequent Events

In January 2004 the Company issued 5,962,530 shares of its common stock in exchange for the cancellation of $213,724 of indebtedness. The shares were valued $475,682, the market value of the shares on the date of issuance.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Plan of Operation

For the three-months ended December 31, 2002 and 2003

During the three-month period ended December 31, 2003, the Company had revenue of $17,287 from its contract with the U.S. Navy. Substantially all of the $806,330 incurred for consulting fees were paid through the issuance of 8,708,000 shares of the Company's common stock. Substantially all of the legal fees of $396,884 were paid through the issuance of 2,500,000 shares of the Company's common stock. The services were valued based upon the market value of the issued shares on the respective date of issuance. Consulting fees incurred during the three-month period pertained to marketing and advertising agreements with unrelated third parties. During the quarter, the Company also incurred $25,088 in research and development costs, interest expense of $9,103 and a loss on stock issuance in exchange for debt totaling $364,657.

During the three-month period ended December 31, 2002, the Company had revenue of $60,391 from its contract with the U.S. Navy. It incurred general and administrative expenses totaling $399,989, which consisted primarily of consulting fees that totaled $208,279. Of this amount, $194,880 was paid through the issuance of 676,000 shares of common stock. It incurred $77,452 in research and development costs, interest expense of $51,337, an impairment loss of goodwill amounting to $750,000 and a loss from the repossession of a marine vessel totaling $27,155.

For the six-months ended December 31, 2002 and 2003

During the six-month period ended December 31, 2003, the Company had revenue of $70,640 from its contract with the U.S. Navy. It incurred general and administrative expenses totaling $1,424,806, which consisted primarily of consulting and legal fees that totaled $810,080 and $400,000, respectively. As indicated above, substantially all services rendered in connection with consulting and legal were paid through the issuance of shares of the Company's common stock. Total common shares issued for legal services during the six-month period totaled 4,500,000. During the six-month period, the Company also incurred $54,817 in research and development costs, interest expense of $9,723 and a loss on stock issuance in exchange for debt totaling $364,657.

During the six-month period ended December 31, 2002, the Company had revenue of $60,391 from its contract with the U.S. Navy. It incurred general and administrative expenses totaling $476,429, which consisted primarily of consulting fees that totaled $208,279. Of this amount, $194,880 was paid through the issuance of 676,000 shares of common stock. It incurred $77,452 in research and development costs, interest expense of $51,670, an impairment loss of goodwill amounting to $750,000 and a loss from the repossession of a marine vessel totaling $27,155.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Cash and cash equivalents as of December 31, 2003, was increased by $1,664. Amounts received from loans were $249,525. Included in this amount was $121,025 from related parties. Repayments to related parties during the six-month period were $112,145. During the six-months ended December 31, 2003, the Company used $135,716 in its operations.

Cash and cash equivalents as of December 31, 2002, was decreased by $3,461. Cash received during this six-month period included $110,000 from the sale of 627,275 shares of the Company's common stock, $50,000 from an investor in exchange for a convertible note, $53,272 from the operations manager of the Company, $25,192 from a loan secured by accounts receivable and a $22,700 from loans from other third parties. During the six-months ended December 31, 2002, the Company used $101,680 was used in operations, $127,000 was used in the purchase of Integrated Maritime, $3,480 was incurred in private offerings and $9,500 was repaid to a related party.

Management Plan of Operations

The company has historically and continues to rely on equity and debt financing to sustain operations. A revenue source was established for the first time in the company's history through the acquisition of Integrated Maritime Platforms International, Inc. ("Integrated Maritime"). Integrated Maritime is currently developing a complete line of manned and unmanned craft for domestic and international sales. A portion of these costs are covered under the company's contract with the U.S. Navy for unmanned surface vehicles. However, additional capital is required to prototype and market the product in order to generate revenues for continued operations.

The company is currently working with several funding sources concurrently for either debt or equity financing, or a combination. These discussions are in the early stages and the terms not sufficiently finalized at this time.

As funds are received through revenues, debt or additional equity financing, management plans to negotiate with creditors to settle prior and outstanding obligations for either a reduced amount or settle the debt through the issuance of the company's stock.

In July of 2003, the company signed a letter of intent with Radix Ortega to acquire a portion of their company. Radix Ortega provides environmental and construction management services, with a focus on the marine industry. The company had planned finalize this acquisition during the second quarter of the fiscal year, however, at the present time, cannot commit to a timeframe within which such acquisition will in fact be completed.

Forward-Looking Statements

Certain statements concerning the Company's plans and intentions included herein constitute forward-looking statements for purpose of the Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 for which the Company claims a safe harbor under that Act. There are a number of factors that may affect the future results of the Company, including, but not limited to, (1) general economic and business conditions; (2) the success of our restructuring; (3) our ability to raise additional capital through the offering of equity securities; (4) competition; (5) our ability to continue to build strategic relationships within the marine industry, particularly within the domestic and international high-speed USV market; (6) required accounting changes; (7) our relationship with the U.S. Government; (8) approval of our products by the U.S. Navy; (9) national security, including acts of domestic and international terrorism, and (10) other factors over which we have little or no control.
